DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-36, drawn to a method for isolating and maintaining a cell from a mixed population of uncultivated cells, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
 - II. Claims 37 and 38, drawn to a method for identifying a polynucleotide encoding an activity of interest, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Groups I and II are distinct and independent inventions in that they are directed to methods which have different purposes. As a result, different and distinct searches will have to be performed. For example, the search required for Group I such as isolating and maintaining a cell from a mixed population of uncultivated cells of claim 1 is not required for Group II while the search required for Group II such as identifying a polynucleotide encoding an activity of interest of claim 37 is not required for Group I.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Group I contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
 - (1) the porous gel microdroplet (GMD) comprises a hydrogel matrix (claim 13)
 - (2) the porous gel microdroplet (GMD) comprises a selectively permeable membrane (claim 13)
 - (3) the porous gel microdroplet (GMD) comprises a CELMIXTM emulsion matrix (claim 14)

Art Unit: 1634

- (4) the porous gel microdroplet (GMD) comprises a CELGEL™ encapsulation matrix (claim 14)

The species are independent or distinct because these species are directed to different porous gel microdroplets.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, generic claims are claims 1-12 and 15-36.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. Group I further contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
- (5) the growth column comprises a capillary (claim 17)
- (6) the growth column comprises a chromatography column (claim 18)

The species are independent or distinct because these species are directed to different growth columns.

Art Unit: 1634

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, generic claims are claims 1-16 and 19-36.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Group I further contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

(7) conditions allowing the encapsulated cell to survive and be maintained comprise providing nutrients at in situ concentrations (claim 21)

(8) conditions allowing the encapsulated cell to survive and be maintained comprise flowing an aqueous nutrient mixture through the growth column (claim 22)

The species are independent or distinct because these species are directed to different conditions allowing the encapsulated cell to survive and be maintained.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, generic claims are claims 1-20 and 23-36.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
